ALM

CELLS CREATED FOR GROWTH

Inspired by cell division, the way an organism grows, analogous to how a tenant of RLAM can start small and become large

Graphical
Abstraction

A 4x20 grid of 80 black and white pixelated characters, resembling a stylized font or a corrupted text display. The characters are arranged in four rows and twenty columns, with each character occupying a single pixel in the grid.
